ARNOLD TALKS ON "TRUST SERVICES"

Lois Arnold addressed the Greencastle Rotary Club on "Trust Services" at the weekly luncheon meeting of this civic organization. The talk of Mr. Arnold, cashier of the First Citizens Bank and Trust Co., was one of a series of vocational programs given by the members of the Rotary Club.

Mr. Arnold brought out several interesting points regarding the establishment of trust funds. He stated that the average estate shrinks 17% within a short time after the death of a person. He pointed out the advantage of trust funds and how such action is a protection to the beneficiaries in many cases. The depreciation of estates by means of transfer of ownership was discussed.

Among the guests of the club were E. P. Griswold of Birmingham, Alabama, and A. M. Meyer of Amarillo, Texas.

NEW ERA IN LABOR STARTS AT MIDNIGHT

TAFT-HARTLEY LAW WILL BECOME EFFECTIVE AT THAT TIME

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—(UP)—A new era in labor-management relations will be ushered in at midnight when the Taft-Hartley law becomes fully effective.

At that hour, tight restrictions will be clamped on trade unions representing 15,000,000 workers by the first sweeping union control law ever passed by Congress.

Since its passage June 23 over President Truman's veto, the labor law has become potentially one of the hottest political issues of the forthcoming 1948 election campaign.

Labor unions and some Democrats have attacked it as a "slave labor" law. Management generally has hailed it as correcting the "abuses" of the Wagner Act which has governed labor-management relations for the past 12 years.

Many of the Taft-Hartley law's provisions are headed for test cases in the federal courts. The National Labor Relations Board, Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service and the Labor Department will be ready to begin operating tomorrow under the provisions of the new law.

Some provisions have been in effect since the law was passed. These made unions liable to damage suits for breach of contract, restricted union health and welfare funds, limited union political contributions and expenditures and gave the President power to issue injunctions in national emergency strikes.

The remaining sections effective at midnight forbid jurisdictional strikes, boycotts and strikes for recognition; ban the closed shop; and prohibit union "featherbedding" work rules, excessive initiation fees and expulsion of members for any reason except non-payment of dues.

Furthermore, the government will not conduct union elections or hear complaints of unfair labor practices against employers unless petitioning unions submit required financial data to the Labor Department and unless their officers file non-Communist affidavits with NLRB.

Robert N. Dennam, new NLRB general counsel, has announced that 3,000 pending cases will be dismissed unless the unions involved file the necessary financial and Communist affidavits within 20 days of being notified by his office.

Indian Girls Are Bewitched

BEATTY, Nev., Aug. 21 (UP)—A tribal medicine man crouched in a mountain shack today rattling tin cans filled with rocks to "make the evil spirits bring back the souls" of two pretty Pahute maidens who have been in a stupor since a woman witch doctor told them they were a couple of dead Indians.

In front of the cabin sat their father, Long Jim, a Pahute Indian determined not to let paleface authorities interfere in the struggle between Indian medicine and witchcraft.

The medicine man said it would take about 10 days to put May Bell and Flora Bowl, Long Jim's twin daughters, back on their feet. The girls are in their early twenties.

Nye county sheriff W. H. Thomas and deputy Bob Revert climbed 8,000 feet into the Mt. Charleston mountain range yesterday to investigate reports that the girls had been shot with poison arrows during a tribal ceremony.

They found no visible wounds. "They may be dead to the Indians," Revert said, "but to law enforcement officers their hearts beat, they have pulses and breathe."

The Pahutes are an impoverished tribe, who live mostly by hunting and fishing and occasionally do simple work around the ranges and mines in the Mt. Charleston range.

Their father said the girls were victims of a curse put on them by Bessie Shaw of Beatty during a recent stampede on the Pahump Valley reservation where the Pahutes joined the Shoshones in a harvest festival.

She asked Long Jim to give her a blanket, which belonged to another daughter who was killed recently in an automobile accident. He refused, and burned it according to tribal custom.

"She cast a spell after much hocus pocus and told the girls 'now you're dead,'" Revert reported. Then she disappeared. The girls fell into a trance three days ago.

A store keeper first relayed reports that the girls had been "shot with poison arrows" at a tribal ceremony. When an ambulance driver went to their home Tuesday he was turned away without seeing them.

"We couldn't see any arrows or any wounds, however," Revert said. "The medicine man said they were there but only a medicine man could see them."

Long Jim refused to let the officers touch or move the girls. Revert said authorities planned no further action in the case.

EXPERTS SAY REDS WOULD STIR UP REVOLT

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—(UP)—Library of Congress experts said today that Russia's foreign policy is intolerant and suspicious, and is aimed at stirring up world revolution.

In a report prepared for the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, the experts said the ultimate goal of Soviet policy is the same today as in the time of Lenin—"a complete change of the world's political, economic, social and cultural setup."

"At the base of Soviet foreign policy," they said, "lies the desire to make the world safe for Communism and Sovietism."

The report, drawn up at the committee's request, noted that U. S.-Russian relations have "developed dangerously" since the two nations worked as "the great allies of World War I."

It described the quest for effective international control of the atomic bomb as the central issue between the two world powers today. The experts said prospects of sharing atomic secrets with Russia were "frightening" because the result might well be "two Carthages, not one Rome."

However, they spurned suggestions of a "preventive" war with the Soviets before Russia perfects the bomb.

The report said few authorities on international affairs believe that Russia really wants war or is ready for war at the present time.

The experts' report urged an American campaign for world moral leadership in an effort to avert the possibility of continued Soviet aggression "bringing world peace to a sudden end."

Tax Reduction Chances Slight

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—(UP)—Chances for any reduction in taxes next year because of slimmer today as President Truman made clear that he still believed "sound fiscal policy" demanded that a prospective $4,667,000,000 budget surplus be used to reduce the public debt.

He reiterated his stand in a midyear budget review which also provided his answer to Republican claims of budget savings ranging from $4,000,000,000 to $7,000,000,000. He said expenditures for the year had been cut only $528,000,000 below what he estimated in January.

The budget review covered the 1948 fiscal year, July 1, 1947, to June 30, 1948.

Mr. Truman reported that the estimate of government income for this period had been increased $3,937,000,000 to $14,667,000,000. Most of this reflected rises in prices and the national income, and was based on their continuation at near current levels.

The revenue hike and the expenditure reduction added up to an estimate of an unprecedented budget surplus of $4,667,000,000 for fiscal 1947. Expenditures were put at $7,000,000,000.

The only hope for tax reduction, at least before 30, now rested in the possibility that Republicans might push one through Congress over Mr. Truman's veto. GOP leaders had not agreed on whether they would try this or leave President Truman's two unsuccessful vetoes of tax-reduction bills last session as a major issue in next year's presidential campaign.

Mr. Truman left a small crack in the door that would permit him to come out for a tax reduction in fiscal 1949, which starts next July 1. But even that opening was extremely small.

He was understood to feel that tax reduction should be deferred as long as a major inflationary trend existed in the domestic economy and until U. S. responsibilities to aid foreign countries had been taken care of. And, even then, the surplus would have to be large enough to first make a sizeable payment on the public debt.

Five Year Food Plan In Britain

LONDON Aug. 21 (UP)—The Government today announced a 5-year $400,000,000 program to boost British food production and the Cabinet again was summoned into special session to deal with the grave economic crisis.

The farm production scheme was designed to lessen Britain's reliance on food imports and will be concentrated on lifting production of products such as pork, eggs, beef, mutton, cereal and linseed which normally are imported on a dollar basis.

The farm program was the first of a whole series of emergency measures which will be invoked to meet the crisis caused by suspension of the American loan after the bulk of Britain's remaining dollar hoard had been syphoned off in the greatest run on the Bank of England since the days of the Spanish Armada.

Next in line was expected to be a new drastic cut in food rations. Food Minister John Strachey is abandoning his vacation and rushing to London to improvise new rationing programs.

EUROPE FIRST ON RELIEF LIST SAYS MARSHALL

U. S. WILL NOT BE SANTA CLAUS TO LATIN-AMERICA

PETROPOLIS, Brazil, Aug. 21. (UP)—Latin America awoke painfully today to the realization that the United States refuses to be its Santa Claus.

Rather belatedly the Latin American countries realized from Secretary of State George C. Marshall's words that Europe comes first on the American foreign relief list.

It can be stated on excellent authority that United States help henceforth will be directly in proportion to how much other countries help themselves. American foreign policy makers are determined that the Santa Claus role has ended in Europe, Asia and Latin America.

The self-help requirement stands especially in Latin America, where Marshall himself said "disruption of normal economic and social relations" is much less extensive than in Europe or Asia.

All the American delegation and many Latin Americans agreed that the most important part of Marshall's speech to the Inter-American Conference yesterday was the statement, "we have not lost sight of the economic problems of the western hemisphere" but "the economic rehabilitation of Europe is vital to the economy of this hemisphere."

In a nutshell Marshall told the American republics they can do a lot more for themselves and must do more, not only to help themselves but to help world recovery.

The "Marshall Plan" he gave the western hemisphere can be summarized as follows:

(1) The western hemisphere was not ravaged or disrupted by war as Europe and Asia.

(2) "The economic problems" are "long range" rather than urgent short range ones like those in the rest of the world.

(3) The hemisphere requires "more intensive economic planning for more efficient use of the tools of production and of the abundant resources at our disposal."

(4) More intelligent application in the hemisphere of the resources and skill of private enterprise, governments and existing international agencies is needed.

(5) The United States will continue to "take up" economic questions with her sister Americans in search of cooperation.

(6) But—and this was emphasized as the keynote—"each of our countries must do its part in the achievement of this goal."

This part of Marshall's speech was bound to cause disappointment among Latin Americans, many of whom have emphasized here that military defense and hemispheric security were an empty dream without economic prosperity.

It may temper some of the original extremely favorable reaction to the speech, especially over Marshall's denunciation of the Soviet concept of man as subservient to the state. Although this comment obviously was aimed at the Soviets, some saw a slight indirect warning to some Latin American countries.

POOR EXCUSE

FORT WAYNE, Ind. Aug. 21
—(INS)—When Herman E.
Blanks, of Fort Wayne, sought to explain away a charge of cruelty to animals by saying—
"I didn't have time to take care of the dog"—he should have known better.

Judge pro tem William Burger,
in city court, responded grimly:
"I'll see that you have plenty of time in the future. While you are serving 60 days on the State penal farm, you can meditate on your actions regarding this poor defenseless dog."

Judge Burger also assessed a $200 fine and costs against Blanks.

Humane Officer Wilfred J.
Goss testified that Blanks' pet fox terrier, nearly drowned in a waterhole in the defendant's yard because of the method by which the animal was tied to a clothes-

Coyle, who was cutting grass along State Highway 67, was

EGG PREDICTION

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Aug. 21
—(INS)—Eggs at a dollar a dozen were predicted for next winter by South Bend egg and poultry dealers.

Earl App, poultry house owner, also said he believed that even these high-priced eggs will be scarce.

App said:
"Many people have sold their chickens because of the high priced feed. Storage eggs are scarce too. There are only three million in storage in the nation now, compared to 10 million at this time last year. Egg prices were so high last spring that storage dealers did not care to take the chance of buying on that market and then possibly being caught with an over supply."

App added that the egg season, which usually reaches its peak for six weeks beginning in March and extending through April and part of May, was cut short last year because high feed prices brought about heavy sales of poultry, including layers.

He said that hopes for relief for the egg market rest now with the present crop of pullets, which will begin laying this fall.
Dealers said that although chicken prices have not advanced like those of other meats, they are sure to rise materially sooner or later.

ARABS WRECK SHOP

JERUSALEM, Aug. 21 (UP)—
A shop in the east hotel of Jerusalem was wrecked today by an explosion which police described as the first blow by a new Arab underground movement called "Hurrieh," arabic for freedom.

The blasted shop was ruined.
The rest of the building was not damaged, and there were no casualties.

The bombing, as described by police, was the first time Arabs had resorted to that form of violence since their revolt of 1936-39.

The shop was operated by an Arab said to have dealt in Jewish-produced building materials and paints. The Hurrieh underground movement was reported concerned exclusively with the Arab boycott of Jewish-produced goods.

CATERPILLAR HORDES
ATTACK IVY VINES

NEW YORK (UP)—Ivy vines of many New York churches and other buildings are being destroyed by caterpillars of the eight-spotted forester, a yellow-spotted butterfly.

Dr. P. P. Pirone, plant pathologist at the New York Botanical Garden in the Bronx, said that while the pest is common in this area, it had not been seen in such numbers in recent years.
Dr. Pirone advised application of areolate of lead in ratio of two pounds of powder to 50 gallons of water, to be sprayed on the leaves of the affected plants.

quet of gladioli as the prize for the winner of the contest.

dual cakes and wedding bell ice cream was served, both being

EVERETT GOOCH HONORED TONIGHT

Softball players of Putnam county are taking time-out tonight to honor an unseen participant, Everett Gooch, the caretaker at the park, will be presented a gift as an expression of gratitude of the players for his faithful service. Daily the diamond has been dug, raked, and limed and made ready for the evening's games. Many out of town players have said our field is one of the best in the state.

For the occasion the strong RCA radio nine from Bloomington will be paired against the local American Legion. The southerners have one of the best pitchers in that section of the state and have a record of 21 victories against four defeats this summer. The county favorite, Finley Jobe, will be on the mound for the Legion.

In the first game starting at 6:45 the Moose will play the Farm Bureau. A real evening of entertainment is in store for all fans.

TEACHERS URGED TO PUT PERSONALITY INTO VOICE

EVANSTON, Ill. (UP) — Northwestern University is teaching teachers how to get personality into their voices.

Too many teachers bore their students because of a deadpan expression, nervous mannerisms, monotonous tones and blurred pronunciation, according to a speech expert.

He is Karl F. Robinson of Northwestern's school of speech.

He says that often an elementary school teacher who lisps causes almost all the pupils to develop lisps.

Robinson is in charge of a new program to correct speech faults among students wishing to become teachers. Among other devices, recordings of their voices will be made to let them hear how they sound.

Two companies will spend more than $6,500,000 in the next two years in a search for oil in Queensland and New Guinea.

HORSE EARNED RIGHT TO LIFE OF EASE

CHICAGO (UP)—Greyhound, a year-old trot king who holds world harness racing records, is living a life of ease in his old age at the Baker Acres Stables near here.

His stall is air-conditioned in the summer and steam-heated in the winter. One stable boy has other duties except to keep his stall clean.

Greyhound, now retired, is limited to occasional prancing appearances before the grandstand at harness meets along the grand circuit and at state and county fairs.

His greatest record, 1:55 1-4 for the mile trot, was set seven years ago.

CLOVERDALE NEWS
Audre, Martha and Nila Grove

Jimmy Allender spent a week at Riverdale, a Methodist camp located on the White River near Mitchell, Ind.

They were in the Bloomington District house. There were three districts there at the same time and each district had a large house of its own. The Bloomington house was very nice.

They attended three classes each day in Building Bridges of Friendship, Choir and Personalities of the Old Testament. Building Bridges of Friendship was taught by Rev. Chaffee assisted by a man from India whose name is Mr. Macwan. He told some very interesting things about his life. He said his family was among the untouchable class in India. A group of boys and girls from a Methodist church in Pennsylvania adopted him as their boy and educated him after his mother and father died. He said it was almost impossible for us Americans to understand how much good the missionaries and money we have sent to India has done for his people. He also told of some of the customs and beliefs of his people. He came to America to get people interested in India.

Choir was taught by Marian Otto, a student at DePauw University. Besides the regular classes singing was at the morning watch which was before breakfast and evening watch which was after dinner.

Personalities of the Old Testament was taught by Rev. Schoolfield. The personalities of the Prophets were studied and compared with personalities of people today. Rev. Schoolfield could make the Prophets come to life and when he talked you could almost think they were alive today instead of centuries ago.

At every morning watch Rev. Guy O. Carpenter preached and at every evening watch Rev. M. B. McFall preached.

There were more than 400 boys and girls from all the districts, about 150 being from the Bloomington District. Boys and girls awoke at 6:00 every morning to the playing of the chimes and singing of hymns. They went to the tabernacle at 6:45. There they sang songs and listened to Rev. Carpenter's sermon which was always interesting. Breakfast was at 7:40 and camp clean up immediately afterward. From 8:40 to 10:15 there were two classes. At 10:15 a business session was called to discuss important things about camp. One of the many things discussed was the fund for a swimming pool to be built at Riverdale. This year they had to go to Spring Mill Park to swim. Anyone can give to the swimming pool fund so they are hoping enough people will contribute so that the young people who go next year will be able to swim every day at Riverdale.

After business session there was a third class and at 12:00 lunch was served. From 12:00 to 5:30 was free time to do what they wanted to do. There was a hobby shop where they could paint pictures, make bill folds, and bracelets or there were sports of softball, ping pong, badminton, or volleyball.

The concession stand was a very popular place at free times during the day, the boys and girls gathered here for ice cream, cakes and candy. Dinner was served at 5:30 and then another free period until evening watch at 7:15 when Rev. McFall preached. At 9:30 there were district prayer groups.

Thursday evening at evening watch graduation exercises for everyone who had been to Riverdale three years were held. All who had been there three years received diplomas for attending three classes each year. Boys and girls may go to Riverdale as many times as they wish. Some had been there for six and seven years and are now leaders.

The Friday evening candle light services at the edge of the river were very beautiful. The cross stood on the other side of the river and the lights reflecting in the river made a very pretty scene. Every boy and girl carried a lighted candle.

Saturday morning communion services were held and the boys and girls returned home immediately afterwards. They had a wonderful time and would like to go again next year if possible.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Allender and Jim were guests Sunday at the Shrinkers Hendricks County Picnic near Avon.

Mrs. Elmer Sutherland and Mary Ellen were in Greencastle Tuesday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Cox and Harold Cox of Indianapolis spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Cox and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Nier, Ervin and Barbara attended the Nier reunion Sunday at Milligan park in Crawfordsville.

Word has been received from Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Langdon that they visited Grand Canyon National Park, Arizona Saturday and are having a nice time.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Cox and son, Herman, were in Greencastle on business Saturday afternoon.
